

HARRIET M. HAGEMAN

Hageman Law P.C. – Managing Partner

Harriet M. Hageman is a trial attorney who began her Wyoming law practice in August, 2000. She received her B.S. Degree in Business Administration from the University of Wyoming. In 1989 she graduated from the University of Wyoming’s College of Law. Her first position was as a clerk for Honorable James E. Barrett, United States Appellate Court for the Tenth Judicial Circuit. She is currently licensed to practice law in the States of Wyoming, Nebraska, and Colorado.

Ms. Hageman has worked on many water and natural resource matters, including Nebraska v. Wyoming (an interstate dispute); federal “roadless” rules litigation; challenges to US Fish & Wildlife Service’s management and recovery of the Canadian gray wolf and other species; protection of private property from contaminated discharges; predator control; defense of Wyoming’s “open range” law; protection of grazing rights on BLM and private lands; snowmobile use in Yellowstone National Park; and protection of water rights.

She represents several irrigation districts around Wyoming, addressing such matters as protection of irrigated agriculture and the impact of land use changes.
