

MARK HERR

Center for Self Governance – President

Mark Herr Sr. is a U.S. Air Force retiree, president and co-founder of the nonprofit educational institution the Center for Self Governance (CSG). Since 2012, Mark has been traveling across the country training citizens to inform discretion, instruct delegated authority, and control instituted government.

Led by the vision of the Founding Fathers, Mark works tirelessly to further the Center for Self Governance's mission to institutionalize self-governance across the United States. Under his leadership, CSG has trained over 2000 students across 18 states to date. CSG graduates have had Legislative and Election cycle successes at the School, City, County, State and Federal levels of government.

Mark generally works seven days per week, lighting brushfires of freedom across the country. He spends what remaining time he has dreaming of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.
