

ELAINE WILLMAN, MPA

Elaine Devary Willman, MPA, is a specialist in the field of federal Indian policy, a constant researcher, speaker, activist, and author of two books: (2005) Going to Pieces...the dismantling of the United States of America, and (2016) Slumbering Thunder...a primer for confronting the spread of federal India policy and tribalism overwhelming America. Ms. Willman attended two years of law school, has a Master's in Public Administration (MPA) and 96 credits toward a doctoral degree in federal policy. She is of strong Cherokee ancestry; her spouse is Shoshone and a direct descendant of Sacajawea. Ms. Willman has lived for 25 years on three Indian reservations (Yakama (WA), Oneida (WI), and the Flathead Indian Reservation (MT)). Nearly 40 years of her professional career as community/economic development director, land use planning, and administrative services for local governments provides her a keen sense of governmental balance, required mutual respect, and necessary separations of jurisdictional authority on Indian reservations located in host towns, counties and states.
